WEAVER WORLD NEWS REPORTS

Breaking Strongholds: Strikeforce Journeys Across Sea, Air, Land, and Time! (SALT News)

Looking back reveals the threads of God's master plan, weaving a tapestry of restoration and purpose.

There's More Ministries embarked on a prophetic journey that began in Israel, the land of covenant, and stretched to the four corners of America, culminating in Washington, D.C. Each step was a divine assignment to restore the covenant of original intent—a blueprint long given but not fully understood until now. In Israel, the mission began with repentance, breaking judgments, and releasing blessings. It was here that the seeds of restoration were sown—a foundation laid for the journey that would follow.

To the Four Corners of America—With confirmation from prophetic voices like Kent Christmas, the call became clear: the stronghold of division over America must be broken. The fractures—etched deeply since Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton moved the capital to D.C., displacing land from Virginia and Maryland—were never healed. The assignment would take the team to the four border stones of D.C., the Mason-Dixon Line, and even the waters of the Potomac River, where the Civil War's division still lingers. Each step was deliberate, marked by repentance, restoration, and declarations of unity.

In Heaven's Courtroom: A Battle for Clear Communication

In the unseen chambers of Heaven's courtroom, There's More Ministries faced the Judge of all creation due to communication issues deeply rooted in America's foundations. Guided by the Holy Spirit, the team had a vision of Alexander Hamilton on the witness stand. His complex legacy highlighted brilliance and brokenness, influencing the nation's financial and governmental systems while casting shadows on his flaws. The team humbly repented for their judgments against him and the Founding Fathers, acknowledging the blend of human frailty and divine calling in their history.

As their prayers ascended, the atmosphere shifted. A spirit linked to Columbia, representing American identity and governance, emerged as the root of their communication challenges. The team renounced this spirit, breaking its hold on Heaven's authority.

A breakthrough followed when witnesses filled the courtroom, their agreement resonating like a unified drumbeat. The moment of divine affirmation came when Jesus took the stand, prompting the Heavenly Father to exclaim, "Well said, Son!"

As they arrived at their lodging—1012 Hamilton Street—a reminder of their mission, the team recognized they had been granted fresh authority to pursue their calling boldly. The indictment was lifted, marking a significant turning point for There's More Ministries.- Diane

The Southern Cornerstone: A Sacred Reckoning at the Foundation of a Nation

At the edge of the Jones Point Lighthouse, hidden beneath layers of earth and time, lies the Southern Cornerstone—one of the oldest federal monuments in Washington, D.C. Its placement marked the beginning of a nation's capital. Yet, its foundations were laid with human ambition and divine intent.

More Ministries stood there, feet planted on sacred ground, facing the weight of history and the whispers of unfinished covenants.

With hearts bowed in humility, the team repented for where God's Original Intent for America had been altered—for land seized, deals made in secret, and for pride that corrupted holy beginnings. They spoke Robert Hunt's Covenant of 1607 into the winds: "May this Land be Evangelist to the World." They revisited the Mayflower Compact, reminding the earth and heavens of America's foundation as a "City on a Hill."

As prayers rose, visions unfolded. Angels of justice and war horses of righteousness galloped into the spiritual battlefield. Winds shifted, waters crashed differently along the shoreline, and unseen shackles began to break. The sound of shofars and harps mingled with the breath of God, swirling counterclockwise in divine warfare.

In a moment of revelation, George Washington appeared in a vision—sailing on a ship under the Appeal to Heaven flag, followed by the American and Israeli flags. The captain was returning to reclaim what was lost, but the breakthrough was contingent on repentance. And repent they did—for pride, for exporting idolatry, for the compromises of pulpits across the nation. A stake was driven into the ground—a declaration of dominion and restoration. Overhead, an eagle soared, a helicopter hovered, and Heaven bore witness.

That evening, the team stood in the Museum of the Bible, hearts united with leaders across the Body of Christ. Worship rose like incense, prayers intertwined, and the seeds of the cross were planted afresh in Amer-

The Capitol Assignment: Unveiling, Repenting, and Restoring America's Covenant

In the marble halls and shadowed corners of the U.S. Capitol, There's More Ministries carried out a divine mission—a hidden battle waged not with swords but with prayers, repentance, and Heaven's authority.

At the heart of their assignment lay the Center Stone—a foundational point placed by Freemasons beneath layers of politics, ambition, and spiritual mixture. Communion elements were discreetly placed, pillars were anointed, and prayers ascended like incense. The Lord whispered, "I am here to examine the traditions and ceremonies of Congress." The team stood at the symbolic Doors of the Nation's Stage, discerning the false performance—a staged house, empty of life, yet dressed in grandeur.

Inside, they confronted symbols of idolatry—the 13 goddesses superimposed over the 13 colonies, their presence woven into the nation's spiritual fabric. Repentance flowed for Hamilton and Jefferson's manipulation, America's deviation from her original scroll, and the apathy of generations past.

A vision unfolded: William Penn, quill in hand, reclaimed the divine script written over America. The Sermon on the Mount became more than words; it emerged as Heaven's legislative blueprint for a nation set apart.

Prophetic clarity came like flashes of light. Fierce and blinding tsunami angels surged underground, cleansing tunnels and dismantling dark strongholds. Ancient warrior angels, long held back, were finally released, their armor gleaming and weapons ready. A heavenly voice thundered, "I will not be denied!"

At the heart of the Capitol, the team stood in spiritual authority, releasing the original scroll of God's covenant for America. The blood of Jesus mingled with the innocent bloodshed in the nation, creating a new frequency—a sound of mercy rising higher than cries for vengeance.

Another stone—the Eastern Stone—lay hidden in deep woods, veiled under layers of spiritual TMM Conference Friday Night.

Restoring the Four Stones: A Journey of Redemption and Renewal

In the quiet corners and forgotten foundations of Washington D.C., There's More Ministries stood in humility and spiritual authority. Four stones—North, South, East, and West—once hidden and entangled in layers of occult influence, masonic rites, and historical compromise, became the focal points of a divine assignment to reclaim America's covenant with God.

The Northern Stone: Guardian Spirit Unveiled and True North Restored

At the Northern Stone, a garbage truck symbolically blocked their path. But rather than discouragement, the team rejoiced—God was taking out the trash! The name Casella revealed meanings tied to habitation and strongholds. Occult symbols emerged—snakes coiled like fences and a Harry Potter Forbidden Forest sign passed by, exposing layers of spiritual bondage.

The team repented, cut ties with the guardian spirit of the North, and restored the True North. The wind shifted as harp tones joined the cleansing frequencies of their voices. The stone was renamed: "Lands of the Covenant and District of the Dove." Angels with swords and battle axes descended, cutting through spiritual barriers. A pink corkscrew was driven into the ground—symbolizing new beginnings. Joy arrived with the vision of eagles soaring, declaring that America was being lifted from darkness into God's light.

Fruit: A bucket truck labeled "Lifting America" passed by. The atmosphere tangibly shifted.

The Western Stone: Breaking the Bonds of Apathy and Division

The Western Stone stood in a neighborhood park, its spiritual weight heavy. Sleepiness fell over the team—a spirit of apathy—but they rebuked it. The stone was hogtied to halt Pennsylvania and West Virginia revival fires from reaching D.C.

Through repentance and intercession, the ropes were removed. The spirit of pride and usury was broken, and the dam blocking spiritual renewal was shattered. God declared, "What has been damned up for over 200 years has now been released!"

Communion was poured out—it turned into drops of blood on the stone. The team built an altar with 12 white stones and 13 pennies, symbolizing interdependence, oneness, and restoration. A song rose: "Light the fire in America's soul, fan the flame & make us whole."

God's love flooded the area. The Abrahamic covenant and birthright were restored, and the blessings of life, love, and liberty were declared across America. Angels repaired breaches, tied godly ley lines nationwide, and loosed divine restoration.

Fruit: Halloween decor nearby was deflated and knocked down, symbolizing evil being dismantled.

The Eastern Stone: Cleansing Ancient Strongholds

Deep in the woods, under layers of secrecy, the Eastern Stone bore the weight of occult rituals and ancient Masonic roots. Helicopters hovered overhead as the team engaged in spiritual warfare. The blood of Jesus mingled with the cries of innocent blood, healing frequencies of divine mercy replacing vengeance.

A ring of fire from Heaven cleansed the ground, renaming the stone "Lands of the Covenant and District of the Dove." Salt, oil, and communion were applied. The team dug wells of reconciliation, revival, resurrection, and restoration. New wineskins were received, symbolizing a fresh outpouring of Heaven's purposes.

Fruit: The occult veil was lifted, and the discreet angel Metatron, Heaven's scribe and veil-lifter, facilitated a divine commissioning.

The Southern Stone: A City on a Hill Restored

The team confronted centuries of division, performance-driven faith, and spiritual apathy at the Southern Stone. They repented for rejecting God's love and original covenant. A prophetic vision showed America as a staged house—beautiful on the surface but empty of true life.

God's consuming love flooded the space, breaking orphan spirits, shame, and condemnation. The Abrahamic covenant was restored, and seven laps were walked around the stone as declarations of "Grace, grace, grace!" rose to Heaven.

The altar was rebuilt with 12 stones and 13 pennies. Each match lit symbolized the interdependence and unity needed to reignite America's spiritual fire. The Shalom Angel arrived, and a divine peace settled over the land.

Fruit: The Washington Post and L.A. Times announced neutrality in political endorsements, and Mount Vernon—a symbol of national foundation—entered a reconstruction phase.

A New Day for America: Restoring Original Intent and Healing the Land

In the final moments of a week-long spiritual assignment, There's More Ministries stood in worship, prayer, and profound intercession. Heaven's agenda unfolded with clarity, and prophetic revelation poured like a river, cleansing and renewing the nation's foundations.

Sealing the Assignment: Worship, Fire, and Prophecy—

In the stillness of worship, Heaven's courts opened. Four mighty angels—Uriel in the North, Michael in the South, Raphael in the East, and Gabriel in the West—stood at the nation's four corners. With divine authority, they marked the seats of Congress with the blood of Jesus, sealing them against corruption, greed, and misuse. Future seats could no longer be bought, sold, or traded. The team heard Heaven's cry: "TIP THE BOWLS!"—a divine command signaling the release of prayers stored in Heaven's golden vessels.

Prophecies followed like roaring fire:

- "My fire is coming into the White House, the Supreme Court, and Congress!" declared Cheryl in a fiery prophetic utterance. "I founded this nation and will not let it go!"
- Gloria echoed Heaven's words: "Seed planted in creation is now ready to emerge. A fullness of harvest is coming—seed old and new coming together in holiness and fruitfulness."
- Ruth spoke tenderly: "Thank you, daughters, for obeying Me. Today marks the first true day of a United States of America, united under My covenant."

Healing the Land and the First Nations—

The team arrived at the Department of the Interior, a building symbolic of America's stewardship of its lands and people. The Lord clarified, "Do not take dominion over this place. Repent, honor, and restore."

In humility, they repented for centuries of broken covenants with Native Americans for the stripping of their lands, identities, and voices. They acknowledged how treaties were twisted and misunderstood, how wampum belts—sacred records of agreements—were dishonored, and how greed corrupted relationships. The team cried out for the restoration of identity, family, land, and inheritance for Native American tribes. They prayed that the Gospel would heal ancient wounds and that the original scrolls of the covenant for the tribes would be released.

Prophetic Visions Unfolded:

- Native warrior angels, fierce and resolute, rejoiced as they received reinforcements in the spirit.
- Roots that once grew downward in bondage began to reverse, reaching upward toward Heaven in restoration.
- A river of life cascaded through the nation, touching even the DNA of the land, bringing healing and renewal. The team declared the 22 blessings of the Abrahamic Covenant over Native American tribes and proclaimed freedom over their inheritance.

Fruit: Shortly after, President Biden issued an official apology to Native American communities for the trauma caused by boarding schools that separated children from their families.

The Prophetic Completion: A New Day Dawns

As the final day drew to a close, visions unfolded with profound clarity:

- The Star of David hovered over the White House, the Capitol, and every government agency.
- Plates beneath the earth shifted and realigned according to God's original blueprint.
- A new sound emerged—an orchestration from Heaven, filling the air with victory and worship.
- The team sang in unity: "Celebrate Jesus, Celebrate!"

It was done. The assignment was complete.

Key Prophetic Declarations

1. The four cornerstones of America have been restored and renamed Lands of the Covenant and District of the Dove.
2. The scroll of original intent for America has been released and is now active.
3. Healing frequencies have been released into the land, waters, and air.
4. The veil of the occult has been lifted, and the gates of Heaven are open over America.
5. A fullness of harvest is coming, old and new seeds joining together for eternal fruit.

On the Waters: Healing the Dividing Lines. The mission continued on a Water Taxi journey across the dividing line between Maryland and Virginia. Harps played over the waters, and sound waves released healing frequencies, stitching together centuries of division.

The team repented for trafficking, idolatry, and misuse of these sacred waterways. Wind worship opened portals of healing and reconciliation.

Airplanes flew overhead every ten minutes, symbolizing a covering over Sea, Air, Land, and Time.

Prophecy and Heavenly Declarations

- Tsunami Angels moved underground at lightning speed, cleansing and rebuilding unseen foundations.
- Ancient Warrior Angels were released, armed, and ready to fulfill God's original scroll for America.
- William Penn and George Washington appeared in prophetic visions, affirming Heaven's alignment with the team's prayers.
- The Lord declared: "Finally, the Sons of God have arrived!"

Final Declarations and Commissioning

- The Four Stones were thoroughly cleansed and re-established.
- America was renamed "Lands of the Covenant," and D.C. became the "District of the Dove."

strongholds. There, frequencies shifted. A ring of fire from Heaven consumed demonic roots, replacing death with life. Five women stood in symbolic authority, embodying the spirit of Deborah, Judah, Esther, Jael, and Judith. Heaven and earth aligned with drums beating, harps playing, and shofars sounding. The Crystal River flowed from the throne, cleansing every stone and every path. The final prophetic vision was clear—a Rubik's Cube of the nation being rebuilt, piece by piece, with divine precision. The house of America, once staged and empty, was being filled with the Light and Life of God. From ancient roots to heavenly scrolls, this wasn't just an assignment—it was a seismic shift in the spirit over a nation founded on covenant, now being reclaimed for the Kingdom of God.

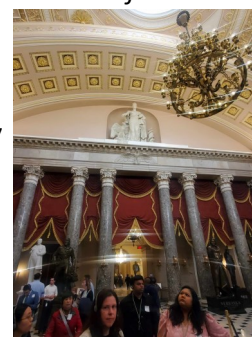

A New Day For America From Pg. 4

6. The covenant with Native Americans has been restored, and their birthright is being reclaimed.
7. The rivers of life are flowing, cleansing the nation from its foundations upward.

The Final Vision: Hope for America

The heavens declared: "Finally, the Sons of God have arrived!" Angels moved with precision, rebuilding spiritual structures and cleansing centuries-old wounds. The team saw a cross and a dove hovering over Washington, D.C.—symbols of redemption, peace, and the Holy Spirit's presence. As they walked away, they carried not just the memory of the week but a mantle—a divine commission to train saints in taking dominion, walking in covenant, and partnering with Heaven to see God's original intent for America fully realized.

A Nation Reclaimed The final song lingered in the air: "Light the fire in America's soul, fan the flame & make us whole. Lord, You know where we've been, so light the fire in America again!"

SALT: Sea, Air, Land, and Time

The assignment wasn't confined to geography—it spanned dimensions:

- Sea: Prayers over the Potomac and waterways broke spiritual chains of division.
- Air: Eagles, symbols of divine confirmation, soared overhead.
- Land: Covenant land was reclaimed through prophetic acts of repentance.
- Time: The journey reached back to Creation and 1607, healing ancient wounds, especially with Native American tribes whose lands were taken to establish the nation's capital.

Releasing Heaven's Frequencies

God called the team to release Heaven's frequencies into the earth, using harps, shofars, drums, wind flutes, bells, voices, and even footsteps. Each sound carried seismic spiritual activity, resonating with the earth's foundations and aligning them with Heaven's plans.

Breaking Strongholds and Aligning with Heaven

The assignment revealed deep strongholds:

- The Rothschild stranglehold over the nation's finances was confronted and severed.
- Native American believers, traveling from California to D.C. after the Esther gathering, added a layer of spiritual agreement.
- The significance of Jude's Law emerged—a divine principle the team released as instructed by God.

Megalithic Connections and Isaiah's Prophecy

The trip's timing aligned with megalithic measurements—the ancient subdivision of the earth's circumference tied to structures like Stonehenge. Isaiah 40:22-24 illuminated the purpose:

"He reduces rulers to nothing & makes the elite of the earth as nothing at all... when the Lord blows on them, they wither away..." This assignment carried global implications, affirming the sovereignty of God over earthly power structures.

Impacting the Global Agenda

With obedience to God's timing and word, the journey became a declaration: His breath is moving across the earth, uprooting what is not of Him and establishing His Kingdom. The assignments completed in Israel and America are the first steps in a inheritance.

- They called forth scrolls of covenantal intent for each tribe, sealed with the double blessing of Manasseh.
- They saw tribal warrior angels rejoicing, declaring: "We never stopped fighting for God's original intent!"

In a final prophetic act, the team proclaimed:

- The Abrahamic Covenant is restored.
- Scrolls of destiny for Native tribes are released.
- Let mercy, not vengeance, rise from the Trail of Tears.

Fruit: The same day, President Biden issued a formal apology for the treatment of Native American children in boarding schools—a tangible sign of Heaven's alignment with Earth.

Worship and Completion: A Symphony from Heaven In worship, Heaven and earth merged:

- Wind played the harp.
- Drums carried the rhythm of Heaven's heartbeat.
- Voices rose harmoniously, declaring God's love and faithfulness over America.

The team sang:

"Light the fire in America's soul, fan the flame & make us whole. Lord, You know where we've been, so light the fire in America again!"

Post log: A Nation Re-Covenanted

- The Crystal River flowed continuously, cleansing the spiritual veins of the nation.
- The five women of TMM carried the mantle of the five daughters of Zelophehad, rewriting laws of inheritance and spiritual authority.
- Ley lines were realigned, with the blood of Jesus sealing each connection.

The Lord spoke: "America is now walking into her fullness. The scrolls of original intent have been unlocked. The gates are open. The Sons of God have arrived!"

Final Fruit and Forward March

- The Washington Post and L.A. Times announced neutrality in political endorsements.
- Mount Vernon entered reconstruction, symbolizing a foundational reset for the nation.
- Angels stood at every voting booth, ensuring integrity and justice.

A Nation Made Whole

With prayers uttered, scrolls released, and Heaven's decrees spoken, America stood at the threshold of a new era. This wasn't just a trip—it was a divine turning point.

The final cry rose:

"Let the sons of God arise! Let the gates of Heaven remain

Fort Necessity: America's New Covenant

In a divinely orchestrated turn of events, There's More Ministries found themselves at Fort Necessity—a place steeped in history and spiritual significance. It wasn't planned, but Heaven had written it into their itinerary.

A Nation's Debt Repaid: The Appeal of 1871 The day began with deep repentance and courtroom intercession. The team stood before the Courts of Heaven, appealing the Washington Treaty 1871. This treaty, signed by Ulysses S. Grant and William Gladstone, bound America in financial enslavement to British and elite bloodlines. It was a deal cloaked in trickery, sealing America's fate as a republic no longer truly sovereign.

- Charges Filed: Thievery, deception, manipulation, and violation of God's original intent for America.
- Witnesses Called: Abe Lincoln, Robert Hunt, and Ben Franklin took the stand in Heaven's court.
- Verdict Rendered: The Appeal was granted!

The gavel fell, and Heaven ruled: "Shalom shall reign over America. Restoration shall flow like a river. This day, the covenant is reset."

Signs and Wonders: Divine Tokens of Redemption In the quietness of their van, a 2-shekel Israeli coin appeared—supernaturally placed, carrying symbols of redemption, new growth, and God's sweetness. At the Department of the Interior, they had left gold coins, a 10-shekel piece, and a fragment of Israeli pottery, prophetic markers of covenant restoration.

The team also severed lines of financial manipulation tied to Rothschild alliances, declaring that America's monetary system would no longer function as a stock exchange for elite bloodlines but would align with God's Kingdom economy.

Fort Necessity: A Divine Intersection

As the team passed Fort Necessity, they felt an undeniable pull to stop. It wasn't a coincidence; it was a divine necessity. Here, Heaven and Earth intersected in a sacred moment of re-covenanting.

- A stake was driven into the fort's cornerstone, sealed with 4 pennies—symbols of humility, interdependence, and covenant.

- Anointing oil was poured over the fort's four corners, and Heaven's peace descended.

In a profound vision, they saw the Ancient of Days placing His finger in the center of the circular fort—like a wedding band being slipped onto a finger. This renewed the divine marriage covenant between God and America. The Judge of Heaven said, "This is a necessity. America must be made whole, not just healed. Shalom!"

Prophetic Symbols:

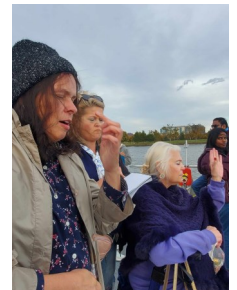

- George Washington appeared in white gloves, symbolizing honor, integrity, and a clean fight. The nation was being repositioned with a commitment to righteousness.
- A Rubik's Cube vision reappeared—symbolizing a divine restructuring of America's spiritual and political systems.

A Crystal River: Washing Through Centuries

From the throne of God, a Crystal River flowed—washing over the four stones and every ley line across D.C. and the nation. The water carried the blood of Jesus, cleansing centuries of injustice and mixture. This wasn't just a moment—it was a resetting of history, a redemption of America's spiritual DNA.

Angelic Activity and Prophetic Alignments

- Tsunami Angels: These heavenly beings moved underground with blinding speed, cleansing hidden systems and strongholds.
- Warrior Angels: Ancient warriors dressed in holiness and divine armor, prepared for the next battle season.
- Linking Angel: An angel arrived to unite tribes, humanity, and the Abrahamic covenant under one banner.

A Higher Decree for Native Tribes

The Department of the Interior team engaged in deep repentance and intercession for Native American tribes. They recognized centuries of broken treaties, dishonored agreements, and stolen inheritance.

- They prayed for restoring identity, prosperity, family, and 7
